POSSE HUNTS DOWN I.W.W.
Legion Men, Crack Shots, Comb Fir For Red Refugees.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CENTRALIA (Wash.) Nov. 17.—Off to the northeast, twenty or twenty-five miles from here in a forest thick with undergrowth, scores of posses tonight were covering an area of rough territory where fugitive participants in the Armistice Day murders were noticed to be lurking. There were rumors that the armed searchers were pressing the radicals closely and that shots frequently were being exchanged.

Brief telephone messages from Bert Hland, local leader of the posse, at the edge of the timber tonight agreed in statements that he had been much firing. But Capt. Lloyd Dysart, commanding the posse of American Legion members and directing from local headquarters the expeditions against the I.W.W., said early tonight he had received no confirmation of the reported clashes.

At least three men, among them Bert Hland, local leader of the posse, and accused of participation in the Armistice Day parade attack, were almost certainly within the circle of the converging posses. The possesmen to the last one were said to be picked riflemen who know every foot of the timber country at the source of the Skookumchuck and Hanford rivers, where the man hunt is on.

ACCIDENTALLY SLAIN.
John Haney, Tenino posseman, who was slain in the hunt of the I.W.W. murder suspects on Saturday afternoon, died from the fire of his own comrades, through an accidental brush between separated parties, it was learned early tonight when the body of the deputy was brought to his city.

Possesmen who fired upon Haney believed that they were being approached by the fugitive radicals, armed and desperate, they said. Haney was among the first of the possesmen to penetrate to the Hanford River headwaters, country and the vicinity of Hunter's cabin, where the fugitive participants were believed to be lurking, according to word brought here today by his companions. Preston McDonald of Centralia, Morgan Davis, chief guard warden for Thurston county, and

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—On the eve of a final vote on the peace treaty President Wilson gave the Senate to understand today that, unless it modified reservations already adopted, he would take the treaty back to the White House and lock it up in his desk.

The first effect of the warning was to stiffen the lines on both sides of the Senate fight. Those compromise proposals of many kinds were thrown out by the Democrats in a final effort to break into the majority programme. They found the treaty's Republican friends, all of whom had voted for the reservations, disposed to listen, but to promise nothing, and the life of the treaty seemed to hang upon a slender thread.

The decision one way or another is planned for Wednesday. Under the cloture rule the leaders say it cannot be delayed beyond Friday. Tomorrow the Senate will remain in session until it has cleared away all proposed reservations, leaving nothing to do but act upon the ratification resolution itself. Four reservations, two of them proposed by the Foreign Relations Committee, were voted down today and none was adopted. The Foreign Relations Committee reservation excluding the United States from any responsibility in regard to disposition of the German colonies was rejected today by the Senate.

The reservation, which was the first of the committee group to be defeated, failed to command the support of the mid-reservation Republicans, and also was opposed by some of the Republican irreconcilables in addition to the administration Democrats.

The vote rejecting the reservation was 64 to 29. Twenty-two Republicans voted against the reservation, while three Democrats—Shields of Tennessee, Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Massachusetts—voted for it.

The blanket reservation of the Foreign Relations Committee to preclude from the jurisdiction of the League of Nations matters affecting honor or the vital interests of the United States was defeated today in the Senate. The reservation, the last on the committee list, was rejected by the combined votes of administration Democrats and the mid-reservation Republicans, 64 to 28.

WILSON IS DETERMINED.
The President's determination was made known at a White House conference with Democratic Leader Hitchcock, who declared afterwards that Mr. Wilson never would have an opportunity to pocket the treaty because his supporters in the Senate would vote down any ratification resolution that contained the unacceptable reservations. The Senate leader reiterated his belief that once such a resolution is defeated, there will be a compromise which will keep the treaty alive.

Hope of such a development had a setback later, however, when a member of the mid-reservation Republicans agreed to vote with Republican Leader Lodge against consideration of any alternate resolution of ratification after the first one had been rejected. Vice-President Marshall has indicated he will rule as an alternate proposal in order, and the Democrats have counted on help from the mid-reservationists to sustain that ruling. How many Republicans will be bound by today's contrary decision remained uncertain tonight.

By a vote of 45 to 37 the Senate rejected a reservation by Senator Owen, Democrat, Oklahoma, designed to protect the right of the Egyptian people to self-government. The Senate also rejected without a roll call Senator Owen's proposed reservation declaring the treaty did not abrogate or modify the terms of the armistice or President Wilson's fourteen points.

The two Owen reservations were the only ones, outside the committee list, to be voted on at today's session of the Senate. When adjournment was taken, Republican Leader Lodge gave notice that he intended to keep the Senate in session tomorrow morning on the other proposed reservations had been disposed of.

A number of the mid-reservationists conferred today and at least part of them were said to have agreed to vote against upholding Vice-President Marshall should he rule that a second ratification resolution could be considered after that reported by the Foreign Relations Committee had been rejected.

The vote on the mandate proposal was 64 to 29, with Senators Reed,

Another Blow to De Valera and Treason

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN DIEGO, Nov. 17.—Major Louis J. White of this city announced as a member of the City Council today that he would not take any part in the volume planned for Eamon de Valera, who is expected here Thursday. He added: "I would not feel that I was a 100 per cent American if I came out with an elaborate welcome or entertainment for this self-appointed president, who represents perhaps 80 per cent of the Sinn Fein element of Ireland and not by any means 90 per cent of the Irish population. Our army, navy, government and President are against the attitude that is being shown on in this country at this time, when our own affairs are in an unsettled state, and I cannot conscientiously give an official welcome to this man, although I have been asked to do so by some very good friends."

HAMMONTON (Cal.) No reason for the explosion could be found, according to M. L. Sommers, superintendent. The blast broke pipes containing oil, which ignited. The plant will be rebuilt, Sommers said.

Institutions Affected

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 17.—The State Board of Charities and Corrections has been informed by Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb that it has power to revoke licenses for all institutions caring for delinquent boys and girls. The board recently asked the Attorney-General for an opinion regarding its control of institutions caring for children over 13 years of age, over which the board was not certain of its powers. Information was asked regarding power over such institutions as the California Training School for Girls, San Francisco; the George Junior Republic, Chicago; and the Home of the Good Shepherd, Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Walter R. Kirby, Arthur M. Nelson and R. D. They had several conferences today, but have not really got their work under way yet, as they only arrived late Saturday.

In view of the fact that the railroad bill was being rushed through to completion today and the House plans a three-day recess until Thursday, with the hope of adjourning at that time, there is little prospect of action until the regular session begins in December.

NATION WINS IN OIL LANDS CASE.

Supreme Court Cancels Patents of Espee Road.

Decision Says Control was Based on a Fraud.

News Brings Another Sharp Stock Market Break.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The government, by an opinion today in the Supreme Court, won its fight to have cancelled patents for 6000 acres of California oil land valued at $10,000,000, alleged to have been obtained through fraud by the Southern Pacific company.

In disposing of the case, the Supreme Court reversed Federal court decrees dismissing proceedings instituted by the government to have the land, which is located within approval oil reserve No. 1, returned to the government.

FRAUD ALLEGED.
The government charged that the company at the time the patents were issued in 1904 under a railroad land grant which reserved mineral lands, knew the lands to be valuable for oil, although it filed alleged false affidavits to the contrary.

The Federal District Court held that while there had been no actual discovery of oil on the land, surrounding conditions clearly indicated that it was valuable for oil, and the Circuit Court of Appeals, which reversed this opinion, is now in turn reversed by the Supreme Court.

NOT IN "GOOD FAITH."
In rendering the opinion Justice Vandevanter said the Southern Pacific officials were not acting in "good faith" owing to their efforts to prevent the fact becoming known that they were seeking to obtain the land, and that they "were attempting to obtain the patent by representing that the lands were not mineral when they believed the fact was otherwise."

CONTENTION DENIED.
Regarding the company's contention that a General Land Office agent examined the lands and reported them as nonmineral, the court said the report was made in another connection, and was not considered by the government in approving the company's selection.

AFFECTS STOCK MARKET.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The stock market was subjected to another sharp break at noon today. Heavy selling was precipitated by announcement that the United States Supreme Court had decided against the Southern Pacific company in the suit involving 6000 acres of valuable oil lands in California.

Southern Pacific broke on extensive sales from 106 1/2 to 101 1/2 in less than ten minutes. The stock closed last week at 104 1/2. The Union Pacific, which had been almost the only strong feature of the morning, also relinquished a large part of its 5-point advance.

The entire list broke with Southern Pacific, although some stocks held over their extreme losses of the morning when steel, oil, motors and equipments were 2 to 15 points under last week's final quotations.

PORTLAND INDORSES OPEN-SHOP SYSTEM.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 17. — Unqualified indorsement of the open shop and a pledge to stand firmly for that policy were included in a strong resolution adopted today at a general meeting of the members of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

The resolution, which is an announcement to the workmen of Portland that the employers will not countenance union domination, maintains the right of every laborer to work or not to work, irrespective of union affiliation, freedom of personal action between employer and employee, honesty and fair dealing by both parties and display of true Americanism in all controversies are the keynote of the programme as adopted.

While granting the workers the right to organize, the resolution holds that any claim which the worker has had upon his position terminating with his leaving that employment by strike and that the employer should be free from that time on to obtain without interference other workers to take up the "abandoned employment."

The resolution "stands squarely for the open shop and is unqualifiedly opposed to the closed-shop principle, which shuts the door to industry in the face of the workman who is not a member of the labor union and who, for reasons satisfactory to himself, does not see fit to join one."

"Industrial freedom and right to labor under any circumstances desired must be maintained if the American nation is to survive," concludes the resolution.

NEW YORK REDS AGAIN RAIDED.

senatorship in May or June, 1917, when he was informed of the alleged assistance by a relative in Russia.

"How many persons that you know have become citizens of soviet Russia by this method," Martens was asked.

The "Ambassador," said he knew of others.

Archibald E. Stevenson, associate counsel for the committee read a copy of the communists' manifesto which appealed to all workers to rise in social revolution against capitalist governments. Martens admitted that he was a member of the communist party.

EVADER ISSUE.

Mr. Stevenson called the attention of the witnesses to the fact that the manifesto called for a "reign of terror and violence" and asked him if he subscribed to it.

Martens replied that the soviet government only advocated that policy as a defensive measure.

Following the examination, Mr. Stevenson issued a statement in which he said the testimony of Mr. Martens "indicates clearly that the Russian soviet republic seeks the overthrow of every organized government throughout the world."

Martens was asked by Mr. Stevenson if it was not true that the soviet republic wishes to overthrow all capitalist governments.

"That is their wish," replied the "Ambassador." "They wish to change from the capitalist system to the socialist system."

Mr. Stevenson inquired if it was not a matter of fact that the Russian soviet government was based upon the principles of the communist party of Russia, which urges that the workers of the world unite.

CALL OF COMMUNISTS.

"Yes," said Martens.

Mr. Stevenson read from the call of the communist party issued May 10, 1919, for the third international.

"Civil war is forced upon the laboring classes by their arch enemies," the call said. "The working class must arm itself for the blow if it will not renounce its own object and its own future, which is at the same time the future of all humanity."

"The communist parties, far from conjuring up civil war artificially, rather strive to shorten its duration as much as possible. In case it has become a necessity, to minimize the number of victims and above all to secure victory for the proletariat. This makes necessary the disarming of the bourgeoisie at the proper time, the arming of the laborer and the formation of a communist army as the protector of the rule of the proletariat and inviolability of the socialist structure."

LENIN'S LETTER.

A letter addressed to American workmen by Nikolai Lenin from Moscow August 20, 1918, was read into the record. It stated "The revolution of the proletariat in America, insofar as it is an enemy of American imperialism, is destined to perform an important task at this time."

In substance the letter asserted use of terroristic methods are justifiable in the cause of the proletariat and it cited that class struggle has inevitably taken the form of civil war.

"If I understand this portion of the letter correctly, it is a statement that terror has been employed by the soviet government," said Mr. Stevenson.

Martens admitted such was the case and added that 1500 communists or police officials had been executed in soviet Russia.

The Russian soviet bureau is not interfering with the internal affairs of the United States, it was stated by Santeri Nuotva, its secretary.

"Being utterly unable to disprove this fact, Mr. Stevenson resorts to generalities of no value whatsoever," said the statement.

HOUSE PASSES ESCH MEASURE.

Votes 203 to 159 for Bill Returning Railroads.

Democrats Oppose it, Failing to Kill Guaranty.

"Shreveport Case" is Incorporated in Provision.

(BY A. P. MOTT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Esch railroad bill, providing for private ownership and operation of rail carriers, under broad Federal supervision, was passed tonight by the House, 203 to 159. The measure goes to the Senate, but it will not be taken up there until the regular session in December.

A majority of the Democratic members opposed the bill after their failure to eliminate the provision for government guarantee for revenues of the carriers for the six months after private operation was restored.

AGAINST "SUBSIDY."

Representative Sims, Tennessee, ranking Democratic member of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, which framed the measure, led the fight on the guaranty, declaring it a "subsidy." A motion to eliminate it was defeated, 200 to 155, on a substantially a political division.

The House reaffirmed, 233 to 112, its stand on the labor section, providing only for the voluntary conciliation of disputes. Representative Kitchin attacked the labor section as leaving the settlement of disputes largely with the railway unions. He declared "the brotherhoods could nullify the provisions ten days after passage of the bill by refusing to appoint representatives to the boards created to settle controversies."

DEBATE EXTENSIONS.

Preceding the final "showdown" by separate roll calls, the House spent the day in considering numerous extensions of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Its last act was to place the commission in control of all capital issues of the roads, after members had declared that if similar provisions had been in the law some years ago no "disgraceful financial disasters" would have befallen several big systems.

"SHREVEPORT CASE."

The proposed new rule for rate making was eliminated, after a bitter fight. Efforts to prevent the Interstate Commerce Commission from being given authority to control intrastate rates imposing an undue burden on interstate commerce, were defeated.

"THREVEPORT CASE."

In this section the Congress enacted into law the famous "Shreveport case," after which intrastate rates in the Southwest generally were increased to remove a discrimination found to have existed against Shreveport in favor of Dallas.

Representatives of the four railroad brotherhoods conferred again today with members of the Railroad Administration's executive staff. Except to go over some minor points in their demands with Director-General Hines' advisers no action was taken. The Director-General's absence from the capital probably will hold off any definite moves by either side in the controversy until late in the week, although almost daily meetings of the brotherhood representatives with Railroad Administration officials are expected.

OSBORNE PRESIDES.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Congressman Osborne was today called upon to preside over the House of Representatives while it was deliberating on the all-important railroad bill. It is the first time he has presided over the body since he was elected to Congress in 1914. His selection for the brief honor was a mark of distinction for Southern California.

CHAIRMEN TO CONFER ON HINES'S PROPOSAL.

RAILROAD BROTHERHOODS TO CALL MEETING TO DECIDE ABOUT OVERTIME.

(BY A. P. MOTT WIRE.)

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—A telegraph call for a joint conference of the 500 general chairmen of the four great brotherhoods to consider Director-General Hines's offer of slow-freight service overtime, was issued today after an all-day conference of the brotherhood chiefs.

The meeting, which will be held next Monday in Cleveland, is to obtain an expression from the membership on the proposed scheme of overtime payment. It probably also will consider demands for general wage increases, which already have been made by two of the brotherhoods, according to W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who said, however, such is not the purpose of the conference.

Director-General Hines's offer of overtime for slow-freight service was made to the trainmen and the firemen, but since, if they accepted it, the offer would be made to the engineers and conductors, all will act on it. It is said the proposal will cost the government $6,000,000 a month. According to Mr. Hines, the loss to the men would be $12,000,000 monthly by cancellation of arbitrary and other allowances, as designated by Mr. Hines.

"My offer is to pay time and one-half for time to make runs in excess of what would be required if an average speed of twelve and one-half miles an hour was maintained. This confuses time and one-half to slow-freight service, other service in excess of the basic day to be paid pro-rata, or at the flat rate per hour."

A grand chief of the engineers, Timothy Shea of the firemen and engineers, and L. E. Sheppard of the conductors are among the leaders present. They will continue their session tomorrow.

The brotherhood chiefs maintain that the reasonable time period requested by President Wilson to allow the administration time to lower the high cost of living rather than advance the wages of railroad men has expired with no material action having been taken.

Gandil's Statement Adds New Interest in White Sox Snarl; Oxy May Upset Pigskin Deal

CHICK DESERTS THE WHITE SOX.

Stand Gives New Interest to Diamond Snarl.

Why Players' Money is Held up Still a Mystery.

Gandil Calls Comiskey Strange Contradiction.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Chick Gandil's declaration that he will never play another game for the Chicago White Sox, and the statement of a Chicago player, that Manager Kild Gleason during the world series took them in a room and told them of reports, which had reached him regarding attempted tampering with the players by gamblers, had added interest to the snarl surrounding the players' money, which remains in circulation with irritable insistence.

Not only will Gandil refuse to continue longer with the White Sox, but he wants to get away from the majors entirely.

CHICK DISOBTAINED.

He is frankly disgusted with the entire situation created by reports and intimations that certain members of the White Sox "laid down" to the Cincinnati Reds, and feels that the matter should be cleared up speedily in justice to the players themselves, figuring that talk of the sort places every man on the club under more or less of a cloud.

HAND INJURED.

"In the world series I was handicapped by a hand, two fingers of which were injured by an injury received in Washington. If Chicago will make it possible for me to secure my release, I feel that I can get a berth in the Coast League, which will be preferable to continuing in the majors."

DIDN'T FIGURE.

"The work of the club doesn't seem to have been appreciated. As a matter of fact, we didn't have a team that figured to win in the American League, let alone take the world series. But we did win the present in the heavy odds. Now our world series money is being held up."

It seems that Gleason was puzzled by the poor showing of the White Sox early in the series.

"He called us together and told us he had heard that gamblers had tried to reach some of the players."

"That's what I think of you personally," said Hubert, placing a $50 bill in Gleason's hand, "but damn you, Gleason, you are dishonest. You have sold a game, and I cannot trust you. Now go, and never let me see your face again."

From that day until the present no taint of scandal has attached to organized baseball from the playing end of the game.

AMERICAN RIDER INJURED IN SPAIN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

MADRID, Sunday, Nov. 14.—George Archibald, an American jockey, was seriously injured today at the Castellana race track, when his mount collided with a falling. The horse was killed.

Jockey Archibald is widely known among California sportsmen. He began his career as a jockey at the old Emeryville track in Oakland.

DO NOT BELIEVE IT.

Little credence is given to the report that the Chicago club bid out even by the ultra-suspicious. For some reason four is the number mentioned mainly in this connection.

Why the Chicago club is holding up the money on the men has not been explained, and the lack of many it lends color to the reports, with a resultant injustice to the players if they are innocent.

By a strange coincidence, it was four men who were accused of throwing games for the Louisville club in 1917. This, so far as I can recall, was the only scandal in baseball involving players, either by proving or proving guilt, down to the present day.

Louisville had a good lead, when suddenly four of the men began falling off in their playing. Their work became so consistently poor as to arouse suspicion. They were A. H. Nichols, William H. Craver, George Hall and James Devlin.

Evidence of their guilt was so strong that on being confronted with the evidence, Hall and Devlin confessed, implicating Nichols and Craver.

SIGNED ORDER.

All of them with the exception of Craver signed an order on a telephone company for copies of telegrams alleged to have passed between them and the gambling fraternity. Craver was expelled at once, and on receipt of copies of the telegrams, the other three were dismissed from baseball. None of them was ever reinstated, although there were innumerable appeals.

President Hulbert, then head of the National League, remained obdurate.

Later, Devlin appeared in Hulbert's office in Chicago. He was at first in rage, and his shoes were tramped all the way from Louisville.

ON HIS KNEES.

He threw himself on his knees before Hulbert. He asked that the stigma be removed from his name; not for himself, but for his wife and children.

Both men were in tears. But Hulbert, although deeply touched by the man's plight, refused to grant clemency.

"That's what I think of you personally," said Hulbert, placing a $50 bill in Devlin's hand, "but damn you, Devlin, you are dishonest. You have sold a game, and I cannot trust you. Now go, and never let me see your face again."

From that day until the present no taint of scandal has attached to organized baseball from the playing end of the game.

OXY PLANNING BIG SURPRISE.

Expect to Jar Dope When They Meet Pomona.

Tiger Backers Willing to Stake All on Pets.

Game Scheduled for Claremont November 22.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Occidental is planning to give the form students and spectators the horse laugh on the 22nd prox. The boys who follow the dogs of the Southern California conference football teams have it all figured out that Pomona is about three touchdowns better than the Tigers.

All of which has led to wild competition on the Eagle Rock stamping grounds. The Orange and Black supporters would have you believe that "Aggers" aren't worth a tinker's damn when these traditional rivals hook up in their annual clash.

TO STAKE ALL.

Regardless of the fact that Occidental was beaten by U.S.C., 27 to 0, and the Trojans were barely able to best Pomona by a 6 to 0 score, the Tiger backers are willing to stake their all on Occidental to wallop Pomona next Saturday at Claremont.

Coach "For" Stanton of Occidental is not quite so optimistic as the undergraduates of the Eagle Rock institution of learning.

We asked him Saturday night, after the score of the Pomona-Throop conflict had come in, if he didn't believe that the Tigers were now on a par with Pomona. The Saguena had defeated the Pasadena eleven, 21 to 0, that afternoon, while the previous Saturday Oxy put over a 15 to 6 win on the same team.

HAS ADVANTAGE.

"Scores might seem to imply that," he said, "but Pomona has the advantage because of the material. We'll put up a good fight, though."

The Pomona-Throop score, however, is not an illuminating indication of the Saguena's scoring possibilities. Big "Ed" Covington, the Blue and White's best ground-sacker, did not start in that contest. The Arizona Wildcat's mutilated kicking member with which "Ed" is wont to bump field goals was removed from the game between the posts, so "Covie" was nursed along for the Occidental fracas.

Bruce Elliott, tackle, was another Blue and White husky that did not start in the line-up against Throop. These absences may explain why the Pomonaers failed to run up a larger score.

FAILED TO SCORE.

With Covington out, the Saguena failed to register a single point in the first half, whereas Occidental romped across the Throop line twice in the first half.

The deduction is that "Covie" is apparently a weak factor in the Pomona attack. Either that or the Nixon pets were playing possum.

Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson will rest the U.S.C. varsity for three or four days this week. Only light workouts will be indulged in. All the men came out of the victorious battle with Utah last Saturday none the worse for wear, but the U.S.C. coach will work his men very easy from now on, to keep them from going stale.

LACKED PEP.

In the first half of the Utah game the Trojans showed only too plainly that they had passed the fine edge of perfection. They lacked the pep and zip that characterized their play against Pomona, Occidental and California.

It was not until the second half started, following Henderson's intermission lecture, that the Trojans displayed the spirit that manifested itself in the earlier-season games.

With ten days before the Stanford tilt, Henderson can let the boys relax and then drive them just before the game. The Trojans' high will have but four days to recuperate from the hard tussle with California, next Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO WINS BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Return of the telegraph bowling tournament held yesterday under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Bowling Association, show that on account of misunderstanding of the code used in sending these scores, minor changes must be made in the standing of teams and their scores. This was announced today by Secretary Waldo T. Tupper.

There is no change in the tournament winner. This was the Academy team of San Francisco. The Del Monte of Los Angeles remains second and the Cascades of Sacramento are third. Fourth position goes to the Elks of San Jose. Henagers's Business College of Salt Lake City finished fifth. It had been previously reported that the Zerkens of Richmond, Cal., had taken fourth place and that the Trinkle roof team of Ocean Park, Cal., was tied for fifth place with the San Jose Elks.

A correction was also announced by Secretary Tupper in the score made by E. D. Longstreth of the Sequoia team, which was 262, beating the former record of 259 made by Knute Rinde of the Flo de Baltimore team of San Diego. Secretary Tupper announced today that another telegraph bowling tournament for the Pacific Coast would be held January 11.

McCourt tonight defeated Charles Ottis, the Brooklyn veteran, 50 to 27, in forty-nine innings.

R. E. Cavanaugh, New York, defeated Otto Reisel, Chicago, 50 to 32, in fifty-five innings, going into second place. He has won five out of six games, and lost one, and two defeats for Reisel in third place.

TEAMS REST ON THEIR LAURELS.

Fullerton and Long Beach Await Their Clash.

Each Believes it is Superior to the Other.

Both Have Heavy Lines and Husky Back Fields.

Long Beach and Fullerton, winners respectively of the City League and Orange League football championships, are resting on their laurels. The next thing in the way of prep football in the South is the semifinal playoff. The arrangements are in the hands of the California Interscholastic Federation.

The Central League is the only other organization in the South that has finished its schedule. Santa Monica winning the title. It is probable that either Long Beach or Fullerton will be sent against "Dutch" Shutt's eleven.

TWO STRONGEST.

Fullerton and Long Beach, however, have generally been considered to have the two strongest prep teams in the South, and for that matter in the whole State. It is not unlikely that both will land in the finals.

Just how the two will stack up against each other is a matter of much conjecture. Both have heavy lines and husky back fields.

ARE SUPERIOR.

Long Beach adherents believe that Capt. "Chet" Dolley, Tlernan, LeFebvre and Miller are superior to anything in Southern California in the way of scoring power.

On the other hand, Fullerton supporters point to the topheavy scores that the Hawkin brothers, Morton Jones and "Bud" Smith have run up against the opposition.

CHASE GHOST.

When the early season season came in some critics said that the Orange county eleven was chasing the phantom of the open game and that at old-fashioned football Culp's boys would be a minus quantity. True enough the Fullerton team is an exponent and a successful one of the forward pass, but later games disclosed a line-planning ability.

Long Beach in the game against Los Angeles High failed to show an adequate defense for the aerial attack, which may wreck their chances in the finals unless corrected.

REDLANDS HIGH IN LINE FOR SOUTHERN HONORS.

IF DANIEL'S TERRIERS BEAT GATE CITY ELEVEN THEY GO INTO PREP FINALS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

REDLANDS, Nov. 17.—With the Redlands High Terriers play in the finals for the football championship of Southern California?

This is the burning question among sport fans of this fair city today. The League of Nations and all minor considerations are forgotten in the weighing of the odds, in the deciding whether Redlands can beat San Bernardino here on Thanksgiving Day. If Redlands wins, the game will be a big advantage.

JUDGE UPHOLDS HEADLIGHT LAW.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Constitutionality of the new headlight law for motor-propelled vehicles was upheld by Superior Judge Louis H. Ward here today, when he denied a writ of habeas corpus to secure the release of two men arrested under the law. Council for the defendants gave notice that they would appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Wine that game she will enter the finals.

According to the dope Redlands has the edge. Coach Daniel's Terriers walloped Chaffey 40 to 0. The best that San Bernardino could do was 17 to 0. San Bernardino has not yet played Riverside. Redlands has beaten that team 13 to 0. Redlands has fifteen days in which to get in good condition for the game.

Who am I?

Imagine being asked (by a girl you like), "Are you married?"—and being unable to give the answer!

Imagine being asked your real name—where you live—where you came from—where you are headed for—and being absolutely at sea!

Jasper Soames—he doesn't know if he is Jasper Soames—"woke up at sea" in both senses of the word. He was on shipboard—he knew that. But how he came there, where he was going—why—where—when?

Thus begins "The Thread of Flame" by Basil King, author of "The City of Comrades," in the December Women's Home Companion.

Lost identity—handled by this master of thrilling plots in a way that holds you tense and breathless from the moment you read the first paragraph to the end.

Adventure! Love! Life! The scenes change swiftly. There's never a dull moment in this big, book-length novel. Read it now—before every-one starts talking about it.

Timely Features

Have You Found that Perfect Husband?
Here are some more of "My Husband's Worst Faults"—and how I helped him correct it. This month there is a "hurry up husband" and a "gum-chewing husband." It's good reading for husband, too.

What Do Your Hands Tell?
Look at your hands—do they denote a practical mind? Will power? timidity? endurance? temperament? The December Companion will tell you.

One Day in Bed
A helpful article on the oldest, newest, least expensive medicine for tired nerves and tired bodies. Try it—but you must do it just right.

Do You "Dab" on the Powder?
Keep it up, and it's "good-by complexion"! Powdering is an art. Have you mastered it? Grace Margaret Gould shows you that it is quite simple, after all.

The Winter Modes
With all its wealth of stories, special features, and Christmas things, the December Companion is full of smart new fashions. Furs seen along Fifth Avenue—gowns at the matinee and at five o'clock tea.

Can We Communicate with the Dead?
The thinking world "sat up and took notice" last month when they read the first of Margaret De-la's clear-minded discussions on Spiritualism. Read what she says in December.

Good Stories

"Mistletos"
Here's a love story such as only Alice Brown can write. It's staged on Christmas Eve—which makes it all the more timely.

"Grandmother's Debut"
by Elizabeth Cathbert Hall, shows the eternal truth that no woman is ever old enough to be indifferent to her looks.

"If You're in Love"
—and even if you're not—your sense of values can get most awfully twisted. So it seems in Sophie Kerr's newest story. It's about TWO men and ONE girl.

A Story that Never Could Be "Written"
It "just happened"—and here it is as it happened, a true story by Medora Field.

A Double Love Story
Just what does one mean by "double love"? Well, read Jane Burke's "Primrose Taffeta." Aside from love, it's full of fun—and even fashions.

What All Can Happen in "One Day"
to a beautiful woman in the far West? This story by Mary Arbuckle tells what did happen to Ellen and her little boy, Roger.

SWIMMER SAVES MAD
WOMAN FROM OCEAN.RECENT INMATE OF ASYLUM THROWS SELF INTO SEA AT OCEAN PARK.

Because Charles Steiner, 143 Kiny street, Venice, is an adept swimmer, the attempt of Mrs. P. B. Rosenbaum, 622 Plymouth court, Los Angeles, to end her life in the ocean late yesterday afternoon, proved a failure.

Mrs. Rosenbaum leaped from the end of the Ocean Park pier and was unopposed when taken from the water. Emergency treatment was administered at the Santa Monica Police station. The woman was later taken to her home by her husband, who stated that Mrs. Rosenbaum has been suffering for a number of years with a mental derangement, and that two months ago she was released from the State Hospital for the insane at Norwalk, where it was thought a cure had been effected. Until yesterday she exhibited symptoms of the return of mental trouble.

HUNT DEATH-DRIVER.

Officers After Man Whose Truck Hit, Killed Pa-Soldier.

Bits of evidence are being gathered by Deputy Sheriff Dewar and Modie regarding the identity of the driver of a truck that is believed to have run down and killed Harold R. Boyd, a returned soldier employed at the Ammunicated Oil Company plant at La Habra, Saturday night, near Bell Station.

The deputies yesterday found Mr. Boyd's car and a few small coins that were thrown from his pocket, and learned that a truck from Santa Ana passed along the road about the time of the accident. The motorcycle was badly mangled, and this caused the officers to believe Mr. Boyd was run down by the truck and his foot was caught in some part of the truck and torn off. One foot and a shoe are missing.

The officers interviewed the widow, who resides at 315 Gifford avenue. They believe an arrest will be made in a short time.

MOVIE ACTRESSES AND THEIR HAIR

Has it ever occurred to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular women of the world have hair that is in fact, wavy or leading ladies because of their attractive locks. The reason for this is that the hair of the actress is treated with a special preparation that gives it a natural beauty of its hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or shampoos, but with a simple mixture by putting a teaspoonful of cantharides (which they get from the druggist) in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. This full cup of shampoo liquid is enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. As the use of the hair drive rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much softer than it is. —Adv.

LEGION'S MEN SWORN IN TO WAR UPON RADICALS.

Sixteen Enter County's Service; Grand Jury's I.W.W. Inquiry Begins; One Red is Jailed.

Three forces joined yesterday to war against the I.W.W. and other radicals in this county. Dist. Atty. Woolwine appointed Lieut. Buron R. Fitts of the American Legion a special deputy district attorney, to aid in the prosecution of "Red" cases, and Sheriff Cline made fifteen members of the American Legion special deputies, to furnish information and aid in rounding up the radicals.

At the same time the county grand jury began its inquiry into I.W.W. activities—a movement that will be in full swing today—and one arrest for criminal syndicalism was made at the harbor.

Having raised $2300 among its members a few weeks ago, for the purpose of buying out of the County Jail Julius Menken, an I.W.W., the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union will meet tonight to levy a special assessment in an effort to get bail for Isaac Mueller, arrested Sunday as an I.W.W. The call for this meeting represents the sole known activity of pro-radical forces yesterday.

SERVE WITHOUT PAY.
Lieut. Fitts and the fifteen American Legion men who were made deputy sheriffs will serve without pay. Mr. Fitts, who is first vice-president of the American Legion of California, was in France with Co. 1, Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry, largely a Los Angeles unit, and has since been associated with W. Joseph Ford in the practice of law here. He will direct the operation of the Legion men who are deputy sheriffs and will aid the District Attorney and Deputy Sheriff in the prosecution of criminal syndicalism cases.

Dist. Atty. Woolwine yesterday issued an appeal to all American Legion members and other patriotic citizens to report to him at once any acts of radicalism or disloyalty they may observe. He declared that he was ready to rush officials to the scene of such offenses, if need be, and that offenders will be taken at once before the grand jury. A sort of "rider" system will be maintained, it is indicated, for the apprehension, "while the case is hot," of all persons who preach violence or disloyalty.

The American Legion members in an deputy sheriffs have all been in the intelligence department of the army and will act as an intelligence branch in the war to be fought against radicalism in this county. At the same time, Deputy Sheriff Cline and Bell have been specially detailed to gather information regarding I.W.W. and to make arrests when offenses warrant it.

EVIDENCE SEIZED.
Only one or two witnesses were heard yesterday by the grand jury in reference to I.W.W. activities. District Attorney's investigators and police officers removed from the I.W.W. headquarters in the Germania Building practically every scrap of paper that might furnish evidence. A truck load of red literature, books, accounts and paraphernalia used by the reds was taken to the District Attorney's office, to be placed before the grand jury today. Among the things found were red and white masks and a long red robe, supposed to have been used in the secret meetings.

Upton Sinclair, an author, appeared before the grand jury yesterday and denied he had visited I.W.W. headquarters, or associated with persons of that organization.

ARREST OF "RED."
Andrew McDonald, 33 years old, charged with having tried to preach the I.W.W. doctrine at various lumber yards in the harbor district, was arrested by police officers at the Billings Lumber Company's yard yesterday and held in the San Pedro jail on a charge of criminal syndicalism.

Wearing an I.W.W. button, McDonald came here from Pilsen, Ark., about a month ago, the police say, and asked the way to I. W. W. headquarters, then in the Germania Building. He went to work for the Hammond Lumber Company yesterday and was discharged when caught preaching radicalism, the authorities say. Then he got a job at the yard where he was arrested.

AIRPLANES OFFERED.
An aerial force to assist the American Legion in combating reds, if ever an emergency arises, was added yesterday to the Legion's military organization. This aerial support will consist of twenty-six airplanes, the property of the Lloyd Chaplin, Mercury and Thomas H. Ince aviation companies, which will be turned over to the Los Angeles post at any time they may be needed in seeking red camps in the foothills and in the vicinity of Los Angeles. These planes will be driven by veteran air fighters of the United States Army and members of the American Legion who served in the aviation section will be the observers.

The American Legion's declaration of an "open season" on all I.W.W. and other enemies and traitors of the American government is being supported by hundreds of the city's leading business and professional men, as evidenced by the flood of congratulatory letters that descended upon the headquarters of Los Angeles Post, American Legion, yesterday. Every one of the hundreds of letters contained a hearty "pat on the back" for the service men, who have issued their challenge to the "redskins," and not one word of criticism of the attitude of the Legion was received.

The membership campaign, which is being conducted at the Hotel Alexandria, advanced by leaps and bounds yesterday, and a conservative prediction was made that the enrollment of Legionnaires would reach 6500 by noon today.

ADMIRAL APPLIES.
Admiral Rodman, commander of the Pacific Fleet, requested that he be admitted as a member to Los Angeles post.

A new post of the American Legion will be organized in the Covina district next Friday evening. At present there are about 650 returned veterans of the late war residing in and around Covina, who are not yet organized. A delegation from the Los Angeles Post, headed by Harold Lockwood, H. H. Harris and D. C. Kemp, will conduct the organization of the new post.

TO MERGE POSTS.
Steps toward bringing about a consolidation of Victory Post No. 54, with the Los Angeles Post of the American Legion were taken at the meeting of the former body at the United Men's Club, Trinity Auditorium, last night. Final action by the Victory Post was deferred until the next meeting, the 24th inst. The membership of the combined post, should favorable action be taken at that meeting, will be more than 5500. It was said by officials of both organizations. The motion for the merger was introduced by Bernard Goss, chairman of Victory Post. Capt. Walter Brinkop, chairman of the Los Angeles Post, was cheered when he told the audience that "if ever there was a need for the American Legion to be united it is now."

At the same time, Victory Post nominated candidates for officers to be selected at the first meeting, December, in case the merger does not take place.

LAWYERS QUIT WOBBLES.
S. G. Pandit, the Douglas-Building lawyer who has been the object of attentions by local anti-I.W.W. vigilantes during the past two days, yesterday to State I.W.W. headquarters at Stockton that he will not be in a position to handle further I.W.W. cases here. This was in answer to a message received Saturday.

MCKNIGHT FOR HIGH STATE GUARD POST.

Assistant Adjutant-General Appointment Goes to a Los Angeles Soldier.

Lieut.-Col. James McKnight, for ten years a practicing attorney here, and first commander of Camp Kearny, was yesterday appointed Assistant Adjutant-General of the California National Guard by Gov. Stephens. The colonel returned from service less than a week ago. He will leave with his wife for Sacramento immediately to take up his new work.

Col. McKnight graduated in law at the University of Southern California in 1908 and was associated with Ralph A. Chase in practicing law here for ten years. In 1914 he enlisted in the National Guard, and went to Nogales for border duty with the old Seventh Regiment as a lieutenant.

In March, 1917, he was made a major, and in August he was sent to Camp Kearny with the Third Battalion, becoming first commander of the camp and being in charge until Maj.-Gen. Strong took command of the division.

From Camp Kearny in July, 1918, Col. McKnight went overseas and attended the School of the Line at Langres, France. Returning to the United States, he was assigned to duty with Herbert Hoover as a trained officer for a time and was then sent to the front with reserves for the First Army. When the armistice was signed he was assigned to duty with Herbert Hoover as a trained officer for a time and was then sent to the front with reserves for the First Army. When the armistice was signed he was assigned to duty with Herbert Hoover as a trained officer for a time and was then sent to the front with reserves for the First Army.

GETS BABY ACTRESS.

Custody of "Little Mary Sunshine" Given to Mother in Suit.

Mrs. Editha Osborne, mother of "Little Mary Sunshine," baby film actress, was awarded custody of the child in proceedings before Judge Felt yesterday. Leon T. Osborne, the father, was ordered to pay his wife $50 a week alimony, pending the trial of Mrs. Osborne's suit for divorce.

Mrs. Osborne, in her suit, charges that Mr. Osborne was in possession of his daughter, but because of her youth and surroundings, Mrs. Osborne asked that she be given to her.

MAHANA WEDS MRS. GREEN AS SHE LOSES DIVORCE

Amazing Tangle of Rich and Prominent Local Families Settled in Nevada; Green Gets Decree, Property.

The remarkable domestic snarl in the family affairs of George T. Mahana, prominent Los Angeles insurance broker, and Thomas H. Green, a well-to-do business man of this city, had a dramatic untangling yesterday at Las Vegas, Nev., when the District Court in that city refused Mrs. Green a divorce and gave the decree to Mr. Green, following which Mr. Mahana secured a marriage license and he and the former Mrs. Green were married by Justice H. M. Lillis.

Mrs. Green asked for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. The court denied it, but granted Mr. Green's cross-complaint, in which he asked for a divorce on grounds of mental cruelty inflicted by Mrs. Green through her association with Mr. Mahana.

ALIMONY IS DENIED.
The court denied Mrs. Green alimony and awarded to Mr. Green all the household goods and community property, including the automobile which Mrs. Green took to Las Vegas. The four children, who have been living with Mrs. Green at Las Vegas, were ordered into the custody of the father for three months, after which they are to go to Mrs. Green (now Mrs. Mahana) for three months, and then are to alternate between the parents for periods of six months each.

The children and the automobile were delivered to Mr. Green yesterday afternoon at the corner of Second and Fremont streets, Las Vegas, by Mr. Mahana, acting for the former Mrs. Green.

By an agreement between the parties and approved by the court, the former Mrs. Green is to receive an allowance of $50 a month from Mr. Green, but only during the time she has the custody of the children. The former Mrs. Green was granted no allowance for attorneys' fees by the court.

Following the handing down of the decree, and while Mr. Mahana and the former Mrs. Green were being married in a near-by courtroom, Mr. Green said:

"I believe that my friends know that I was in the right and the outcome proves it. I have done my duty, as any father should do in like circumstances. I appreciate the confidence my friends have shown in me. My attorneys, Joseph W. Musgrove of Los Angeles and A. W. Ham of Las Vegas have rendered me able assistance."

There is still pending Mr. Green's $50,000 suit for damages against Mr. Mahana, which was filed prior to the divorce action, in which Mr. Green charges Mr. Mahana with stealing Mrs. Green's love. After this case was filed last spring, Mrs. Miriam H. Mahana, who is an invalid under the constant care of a nurse, filed suit here for separate maintenance, and later followed it with an application for divorce, which she was granted without a contest. There are two children by the marriage of Mr. Mahana and Mrs. Miriam Mahana.

STORY OF TANGLE.
The Greens were married on June 24, 1906, at Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Green before her marriage being Miss Helen Glass, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Glass, a wealthy Kansas City banker. Mrs. Mahana is 32 years old. The Greens became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. George T. Mahana, also a young married couple, who lived nearby. According to Mr. Green's story as set forth in his suit for damages and also his divorce application, Mr. Mahana at once fell in love with Mrs. Green. Eight years ago Mr. and Mrs. Mahana moved to Los Angeles, and four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Green also moved to this city.

Mr. Green sets forth in his charges that after coming to Los Angeles Mrs. Green was much in the company of Mr. Mahana, until finally on January 15, of this year, Mr. Green returned to his home here to find the house deserted and stripped of furniture, and a note from his wife saying that she had taken the children to Las Vegas. In deposition taken here in the damage suit filed by Mr. Green, Mr. Mahana admitted that he made week-end trips from Los Angeles to Las Vegas, where he visited Mrs. Green, and that they both looked forward to the day when they could be married.

MAHANA'S SIDE OF IT.
The case when made public in Los Angeles attracted much attention because of the prominence of the two young couples, and also the complications involved strikingly parallel "love triangle" and "affinity" cases of the fiction writers. Mr. Mahana in a statement made last spring, said:

"I did not break up Mr. Green's home, as he charges. Mrs. Green and I are good friends, and we see each other when I visit Las Vegas. She is a fine woman and will be vindicated. Her conduct is above reproach. I had long been aware of the unhappy

TWO MORE GREAT CHURCH BODIES BAN DE VALERA.

Christian and Presbyterian Ministers' Associations Protest Welcome to Sinn Feiner, Here Tomorrow.

The Presbyterian Ministers' Association and the Ministers' Association of the Christian Church yesterday passed resolutions protesting against the welcoming of Edward de Valera, Irish Sinn Fein leader, to Los Angeles tomorrow. Resolutions were also adopted and ordered sent to the City Commissioners of Long Beach, by Gen. W. H. Cornett, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Monica, addressing the Presbyterian Ministers' Association at its weekly meeting in the Columbia Building, 315 West Third street, said:

"It is time that the members of this association went on record as protesting against the obnoxious activities of De Valera." Dr. Cornett then offered the following resolutions:

STRONG RESOLUTIONS.
Whereas, Eamon de Valera, self-appointed President of the so-called Irish republic, and a fugitive from justice, is now touring the United States asking Americans to extend their sympathy and contribute money towards the realization of his abject aims, and

Whereas, the said De Valera as head of the Sinn Fein organization in Ireland, did all in his power to aid and abet Germany during the war, as stated by Admiral Sims, and is now seeking to stir up hatred in this country against our Allies in the war,

Be it resolved, that the Presbyterian ministers of Los Angeles and vicinity emphatically protest against any recognition of the said De Valera by the city of Los Angeles; such recognition being in their opinion an insult to the men who were in the service of the United States during the war, and a reflection upon their own profession of loyalty and patriotism;

And we do further proclaim that any person encouraging or taking part in any such public reception do so at their own peril, and that this church and its members in the class with this culprit shall cast a cloud upon their own profession of loyalty and patriotism;

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Mayor of the city and the public press.

The resolutions were seconded by Rev. S. J. Kennedy, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pomona. Dr. Kennedy was born in Ireland, and Dr. Cornett's parents were born there and he has visited all parts of the island.

Rev. Stewart F. McLennan, president of the association, placed Dr. Cornett's motion before the meeting, which was attended by more than 100 ministers, and it was carried unanimously.

The association has a membership of the ministers of the 200 Presbyterian churches in Los Angeles and adjacent communities, representing

Belvedere and Stephenson Avenue

These are the backbone and heart of the city. Are they not in the farming districts, the small towns, and among the modest owners of the land?

You will not find them among people who are busy performing useful work, who are in the community where they are known by their names, who actually own something of the land, whether it be little or much, and who know and trust their banker as neighbor and friend.

Are not these the places where Americans and Americans thrive?

The Hibernian Savings Bank is happy to serve two thrifty neighborhoods, made up of modest, but cozy, individual homes, out among the hills on the eastern edge of the city.

If you live in Belvedere we don't need to introduce Allen Durand, our branch manager at First and Rowan. And if you live near 2201 Stephenson Avenue you probably know T. H. Taylor, manager there. There is one place you ought to visit every week—your neighborhood bank.

TO CHECK UP FOOD SUPPLY.

City Prosecutor Widney this morning will ask the City Council to authorize the preparation of an ordinance that will compel persons or corporations engaged in the business of conducting storage plants and warehouses to render such reports to the city as will enable the authorities to at any time check up the food situation in Los Angeles.

Referenda to the investigation now in progress in compliance with a resolution of the Council, the City Prosecutor says:

"While the cold storage and warehouse companies are required to make a report to the State authorities relative to the amount and character of produce stored in their respective storage plants or warehouses once every two months, and to make a similar report to the Federal government once a month, the so-called 'dry food' warehouses, that is those storage and warehouses where food not requiring cold storage is kept, are not required to make a report of any kind to any authority."

"It has been with a great deal of ease that we have obtained information from the ice and cold storage warehouses, owing to the fact that they are compelled to make the above-mentioned reports. But in the case of the 'dry food' storage houses, while at this time we are to some extent anticipating our success or lack of success in their investigation, we have no means of locating all of the warehouses in the city of Los Angeles other than by searching the city."

In the same connection, Mr. Widney transmits a report of James P. Britt, municipal market superintendent, and a Thomas Posa, chief investigator for the City Prosecutor, stating that they have investigated four dry food storage warehouses operating under city license, and stating:

"We find from the examination of the books of these different plants that the average of the dry food conditions is about the same as in previous years, with the one exception of flour. We find that there is a vast amount of flour in storage at the present time, one warehouse alone carrying 18,326 barrels. This is being held by local dealers."

FOR MURDER TRIAL.
A whole day was required yesterday to get a jury for the trial in Judge Craig's court of James Cameron, a negro prisoner, accused of murder, on April 8, of Ellyett Six. Twelve women, who were called, were discharged because they do not believe in the death penalty. One woman qualified and was taken as a juror. Deputy District Attorney Van Cott is prosecuting the case and Frank Dominguez and W. T. Helms are counsel for the defendant.

Give the Youngsters Plenty of Milk

Milk is Wise Old Mother Nature's own food—especially made to provide nourishment and vigor for fast growing little bodies. It makes bright eyes and rosy cheeks—it keeps youngsters sturdy and well.

"A quart of Milk a day for every child" is a splendid rule. Adopt it. Use Milk liberally. It's the best food there is. And, being rich in food value, Milk, compared with the cost of other foods, is decidedly cheap at its present price or anywhere near it.

Use lots of Milk and give your children the chance for health that every child should have.

CALIFORNIA MAKING.
 There seems to be a couple of reasons
 in the President's official family and according to gossip, another is imminent.
 A really good cabinet-maker should be able to do some business in Washington.

THE CRUCIAL TEST.
 The State Board of Education has adopted a new standard arithmetic for use in the public schools. If it will enable a man to compute his income tax without the use of a cash register and a licensed accountant it will find instant favor.

THE IDEAL.
 The men of the American Legion that there should be no lodging or resting place for the I.W.O.M. organizations or leaders in a good place along the line of safety first.
 If these birds of evil omen have no place
 to roost they cannot accomplish much harm.
 It should be impossible for them to roost quarters in which to live, move and have their being. Property owners should be expected to "ware them as they would the plague. Keep them moving on until they get back to their own miserable soil.

THE MADCAP POET.
 If the League of Nations can be made sleek enough to sound up the world's poets
 the League government would be mightily pleased to have it take D'Annunzio of its hands. The bard appears to be as carelessly irresponsible as the rest of his guild and in his quest for new sensations or fresh laurels is as inconsiderate as the Wild Man of Borneo. The title of madcap poet as affixed to him by Mr. Taft seems to apply with vivid directness. Instead of incorporating names into Italy he apparently would now annex Italy to Rome. Sometimes there is great danger in excessive patriotism.

THE SHAME OF A CITY.
 The action of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors in refusing the nation-wide coal strike is an indication of the grip that union labor has on the throat of the Bay City. One would imagine that the Supervisors might easily have kept out of it.
 They could at least be silent. But that would not do in a city dominated by labor agitators. The defiance of the government administration and the public good the San Francisco Supervisors have their official approval to a strike which the judgment of the courts has already declined and which in its ultimate ramifications and purpose promised untold suffering to the poor of America. It is fortunate that San Francisco is not keeping pace in growth with Los Angeles and there is a reason.

THE PAINTED WOMAN.
 The modern woman's attitude toward the backs of some of our social queens
 when undressed for dinner furnishes temptation to the artist in oil. Here is indeed a background beyond any canvas and with the warm flesh tones already supplied.
 The old masters are a remembrance, but the new ones may now take brush in hand and depict the titans of some of our gracious aristocracy.

The screen princess will be all dressed up when the artist has adorned her with a landscape and a few woolly sheep in the foreground. When Rembrandt, Jr., illuminates the rear view of our Phyllis with a golden sunset on a sapphire sea it will be as good as a bath.

In high society as well as in the world the queens may have their backs decorated for special occasions. For tonight
 there might be fruit and game subjects—a house of ducks dangling from an artificial lake or something. A debutant would be colorfully arrayed for her comely party
 when the artist in oils had sketched a food of bedding robes on her ivory back.
 Old-time and veterans of several engagements might only be adorned with battle scars or comets of the vibrant works of Hans Brouwer.

Artists who specialize in detail will be painting duty gowns and lace patterns on the backs of the mundane. When the fashion leader wished a notable party dress she would seek a Parisian modiste. Instead she would go to the studio of the world's greatest animal painter and have her back adorned with a fringe of spider's webs and leopard fur done in oil colors.

For those who could not afford the work of the great masters there would be standard patterns—quilted cashmere that could be done in stencil at a dollar a yard.

One of our massive Amazons, with her broad back done over with a Venetian sunburst or a Mt. Baldy would be more imposing and impressive than ever.

The new woman would also be more than ever a work of art.

In 1914 the cotton growers inaugurated
 the "buy-a-bale" movement in order to sustain the price of their product. Now they are receiving 75 cents a pound. The tiffers of the soil seem to be getting about all of the money.

The weather in South Dakota is the coldest in years. It is a wonder the Nonpartisan League allows such a condition.

Between Uncle Sam and Sam Gompers
 we will wager a few kopecks on the party of the first part.

ALWAYS A WAY OUT.
 The failure of the coal and steel strikes in this country and of the railroad strikes in Great Britain has demonstrated how futile it is for a small minority in any nation to attempt domination over an intelligent and resourceful majority.

Temporary inconvenience may be, and indeed often is, caused by such selfish and ill-considered tactics. But whatever suffering is caused will in the long run only defeat the ends of those who started it.

No popularly-elected government, of course, will permit the people as a whole to be sacrificed to the greed of any one class or section. Moreover, the people themselves will take precautions to prevent in the future even the temporary inconvenience caused in the past.

If put to the test the people can recom-
 plish this without calling on the protection of national and State authorities. A policy of peace preparedness can be rendered just as effective as a policy of war preparedness.

Acting on the false assumption that their services are so absolutely essential to the country that withholding them would freeze or starve the public into compliance, the coal miners in America and the railway employees in England supposed they could subject a whole nation to the autocratic demands of their unions and brotherhoods.

The truth is that no single industry, no single commodity, no single branch of labor is so completely necessary in itself that the brains of mankind cannot find a substitute for it should the call for such a substitute be sufficiently compelling.

Coal has for centuries been held to be the first essential for civilized life, since that it is so greatly on warmth and motive power.

Without a doubt the sudden shutting-off of all the world coal supplies would at the present time be a fearful disaster. Fifty years ago the wealth of the British Empire was founded on its coal mines. Coal carried the British flag into the most distant corners of the earth. Today such a result would be quite impossible. Already the crown has been removed from the head of Old King Coal.

Oil has shown that ancient monarch of his once undisputed rights. Oil and the motor truck have taken from the steam railroads the transportation continent they once enjoyed. A railroad strike no longer contains the menace it did when Eugene Debs attempted by such means to overthrow the American republic.

Oil and the motor truck swiftly and effectively defeated the late railway strike in England. We may be perfectly sure that American business and American science are not overlooking the utility of these powerful agents should the railroad brotherhoods repeat the Debs experiment of 1894. Their next threat to paralyze transportation will bring them not the soft feather mattress of an Adamson law, but the hard bedrock of applied sciences.

Supporting both coal and oil were to fail us, even then mankind need not shiver or go hungry or go back for locomotion to "Shanks' pony. There is sufficient water power developed on this continent to turn every wheel, to warm every house and to cook every meal in the United States of America.

Water power, in fact, is even now supplementing coal and oil for driving machinery and warming and lighting homes. Niagara has been harnessed for many years. Month after month the Southern California Edison Company has been adding to its number of hydroelectric generating equipments. It has just started another great station on the North Fork of the Kern River to cost ten million dollars for supplying heat and energy to Southern California.

Power can be carried by almost any distance by the electric wire according to the voltage and the strength of the insulators employed. Its limit is the lightning. The electric current can convert heat into power
 and power into heat with equal facility.
 The far-reaching results already attained in Southern California through the agency of hydroelectric transmission are but pointers
 as to what could be achieved were all the water power on the Pacific Slope converted into useful energy.

Alcohol is another agent that will certainly be utilized in the near future as a fuel, especially for driving automobiles and airplanes. Its source is as limitless as the vegetable kingdom. At present the cost of procuring it from the raw material prevents its being a serious competitor with gasoline. This is another problem to which science will devote more attention should there be any marked reduction in the present abundant supply of mineral oil.

Beyond these we have the rise and fall of the tides, the direct rays of the sun, radio-activity, wind power and other pseudo-scientific source of energy that at the present have no practical application.

The chief point to be observed is this—man's resourcefulness is too manifold to allow the whole to ever become victim to one of its parts.

There is no such thing as all things evil. Strikes and threats and rumors of strikes will stimulate scientific research for the discovery of new avenues of supply and so every year to leave the public less at the mercy of one commodity or one specialized group of workers. For every emergency there is a way out and wherever there is a way out Yankee ingenuity is live enough to find it.

THE INDEPENDENT FARMER.
 The various farm organizations of the country seem to be agreed on the programme of noncommunication with the Federation of Labor. A farmer can't associate the word "labor" with a leather-lunged party who curtails production by striking for a six-hour day. The farmer is always ready to be a full producer if the winds and waters will let him. He is no stickler for hours, and working conditions bother him but little. If he is on his own place he works until long after the cows come home.
 He will toll as long as any Napoleon of finance. He hasn't much use for the selfish creed of the labor union and he has attending but loathing against those who riot against the flag. As there are about ten of him to one federationist it will be seen that the country is still safe.

A FALSE ALARM.
 Why should the loyal American citizens of Los Angeles welcome or even tolerate the presence here of Eamonn de Valera, self-constituted President of the so-called Irish republic? Mr. De Valera comes, we are told, to plead the Irish cause. But does he represent the Irish cause? He does not.
 Does the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland represent the aims and ideals of the majority of the Irish people? No!

Since there is no certainty as to just what De Valera represents, aside from himself, it is neither wise nor just to honor
 this man, a fugitive from British justice, to permit him to roam our country in the guise of a hero and patriot, breathing fire
 and vengeance against our ally, Great Britain, in every utterance he makes and attempting openly to arouse unfriendly sentiment
 in this country against a friendly nation, an honorable comrade in arms in the world's greatest crisis.

But there is more than this to deter
 Americans from welcoming De Valera here.
 We are not so short-memory as to forget that De Valera and his Sinn Fein associates gave aid to Germany and furnished the unspeakable Hun with the information that enabled them to sink a British transport loaded with American soldiers, many of whom lost their lives. Is it any wonder that our blood boils when this demagogue, masquerading as an Irish patriot, comes into our midst to preach the doctrines of hate and sedition?

Let us subject De Valera's claim to representing the Irish people to the test of how he and his Sinn Fein movement were regarded by that fine Irish patriot and statesman, John Redmond, who spent the best years of his very full and fruitful life in laboring with high success for the righting of Ireland's wrongs.

John Redmond opposed the Sinn Fein movement with every atom of his strength and splendid abilities. He opposed every movement that sprang up in Ireland that had for its object separation of Ireland from England. He was a believer in the destiny of the British Isles as the center of an empire and all he asked for Ireland was home rule. He could conceive of no good in an Irish republic free and independent of the empire. But for the stubborn and senseless resistance of the Ulster and the unfortunate Easter Day uprising of the Sinn Fein, the home-rule bill, for which he had so long labored, would have become a reality.

A study of the aims and ideals—if the word "ideals" is permissible in connection with the Sinn Fein movement—of De Valera and his followers, leads the thoughtful and unbiased student of Irish affairs to but one conclusion. The Sinn Fein movement in Ireland is but another name for I.W.O.- am, syndicalism and sabotage. The idealism in which it was first conceived has been long since submerged. That idealism was a beautiful thing. It had for its primary purpose the rehabilitation of the old Gaelic language and the encouragement of that musical literature of olden times. But the reds got hold of the movement and men like Redmond saw whether it was drifting into its object separation of Ireland from England. The King of the Kings of the revolution that the leaders were determined to foment.

This red revolutionary spirit is what De Valera stands for and it is what he has been preaching and will continue to preach
 as long as he is permitted to go about and spread his poisonous doctrines.

De Valera's visit to the United States is primarily for the purpose of planting the seeds of hatred in the breasts of all Americans, whether they be of Irish extraction or not. But few sane and patriotic American citizens who have the blood of Old Erin in their veins and who cherish in their hearts a warm love for the "Little Green Isle" will follow this misrepresentative of the cause of Irish freedom and sanctioning treason and sedition against an allied nation.

THAT TURKISH MANDATE.
 Waiting impatiently at the door of the Senate until the peace-treaty controversy is settled is that other perplexing question of international policy, the American mandate for Turkey. The Allied countries are taking it for granted that America will accept that mandate. "Because she ought to do it," Henry Morgenthau writes in a widely-quoted article that it is a question of America accepting that mandate or preparing for another world war. Mr. Morgenthau was our Ambassador to Turkey for a number of years and speaks with a certain amount of personal knowledge about political and industrial conditions in the territory of the Sublime Porte.

But it will take a vast amount of persuasion to bring the average American to the belief that "his country should agree to participate in European politics to the extent of assuming responsibility for ordering government in the territory that once was the Turkish Empire and becoming the keeper of the gates of the Bosphorus. Turkey has continued to be a semi-European power for a century because the great nations of Europe could not agree to trust
 any one of their number with possession of so immensely important a strategic position as that occupied by Turkey in Europe.

France and Great Britain fought the Crimean war for the sole purpose of keeping Russia out of Constantinople. Lenin and Trotsky have put Russia out of the running as a first-class power; the only menace
 from her now would be from something akin to ptomaine poisoning. But Great Britain, France and Italy would rather see this country holding the mandate for Turkey than one of their own number. Some eminent Americans are of the opinion that we would be shirking our duty if we should decline to stand sponsor for the Turks and refuse to break them of their bad habit of fricasseing Christians. But there are doubting Thomases in the country, and their name is legion, who have yet to be shown.

NEWSINGS.
 A man doesn't find it hard to be lenient
 with the faults of the men who are bigger than he is.
 Don't get cold feet when things look dark. Any man who has reached the top can tell you that the road to success is lined with toll gates.
 The fact that this year's model had a lightning rod for electric lights and a sail-starter didn't induce many of the riders to stay on the water wagon.

A bride can spend a whole day worrying over what they will give the baby for a middle name in case they are fortunate enough to have a baby.
 If men and women had the sense of chickens and ducks there would be fewer drowned trying to swim and fewer ducks wearing out their web feet trying to scratch
 at worms.

Nature is cruel. The more a fat woman worries over her shape the fatter she gets.
 And the more a thin woman worries over her shape the thinner she gets.
 If you want to know a woman's real age give her a mirror and ask her what her male friends think it is and what her female friends say it is.

If experience is so valuable, why is it that every man you meet is willing to swap about $1000 worth of it for a dime? (Arkanzas Thomas Cat.

Secretary Tumulty's Mistake.
 President Wilson, convalescent, showed
 he still has his mind on the peace treaty.
 His secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, upon leaving the President one morning recently, remarked that he was going to see the King of Belgium. "The King of the Belgians," corrected the President. "I never heard of the amendment," said Mr. Tumulty.
 "It is not an amendment," retorted the President.
 "It is an interpretation." (Unidentified.)

 sticks, aren't in proportion to his tail, call

REAL WAGES.
 The Difference Between Money
 Wages and Actual Wages.

BY SIDNEY CARYN,
 in the "Argonaut."

Wages may be regarded as "money-wages" or as "real wages." By the former designation we mean the actual amount of money received in dollars and cents. By "real wages" we mean the purchasing power of the money received, and it is obvious that this is the only way in which the actual status of the worker can be measured. If a man receives an increase in wages of $10 a week, this $10 is his money increase.
 But if the cost of living has increased to the extent of $6 a week,
 then it is evident that he has had a
 "real wage" increase of only $4 a week.

Now if we compare the wages received by the mine worker in 1912 with those that he receives today we find a very considerable increase in his "money wage" as well as in his "real wage." If we take the wages in the bituminous mines of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois we find that the increase in "real wages" since 1912 varies from 1 per cent to 8 per cent, that is to say, the worker in that much better off after allowing for the increase in the cost of living. In the anthracite mines the increase in the "real wages" varies from 2 per cent to 27 per cent. For example, a driver in the anthracite mines received as "money wages" in April, 1914, the sum of $14.46 a day. In April, 1915, this was raised to $15.55 a day. In May, 1917, his "money wage" was again raised to $19.77, and in July, 1918, it was further increased to $23.15 a day. This is an increase of 115.8 per cent. In his "money wage" but after allowing carefully for the increased cost of living the "real wage" increase since 1912 is regarded as 23.9 per cent. That is to say, the driver is 23.9 per cent better off in every sense of the word and by every standard than he was in 1912. He has not only been re-coupled for the increased cost of living, but he has received 23.9 per cent in addition. Obviously he is not an object of sympathy on account of the increased cost of living.
 Here is a table showing the percentage of increase in "real wages" for all classes of men in the anthracite mines since 1912:

Engineer, slope and shaft..... 8.7
 Fireman..... 11.3
 Slate picker..... 27.3
 Laborer (outside)..... 19.1
 Driver..... 23.9
 Brattman..... 9.1
 Laborer (inside)..... 17.3
 Pumpman..... 21.7
 Contract miner..... 4.3
 Miner's laborer..... 4.3
 The figures and very many others
 of a like nature are supplied by Mr. Leonard Blakey in his book,
 "Has Labor Carried Its War Burden?"

Similar figures are furnished in regard to the steel trade, although in a tabulated form they are more complicated because of differences in pay in eastern, southern and western shops. Riveters in eastern shops have received since 1912 a 100 per cent increase in "money wages" amounting to $19.9 per cent. But this is estimated to be an increase of 50.7 per cent in "real wages."

Here is a table showing the increase in "real wages" in eastern shops:
 Riveters..... 50.7
 Blacksmiths..... 39.6
 Bolt-makers..... 39.6
 Bolters-up..... 48.9
 Drillers, pneumatic..... 48.9
 Shipfitters..... 23.9
 Shipbuilders..... 7.0
 Machinists..... 23.9
 Laborers (common)..... 14.5
 Moldfitters..... 12.5
 Punch and shearmen..... 23.9
 Riveters..... 23.9
 Shipbuilders..... 7.0

Once more, we need not condole with the shipyard men on account of the high cost of living. The cost of living has indeed soared high, but their wages have soared higher still,
 very much higher.

One other picture before bringing this writing to a close. We have seen the increase in "real wages" enjoyed by the steel men and the coal men during the last four years.
 Now let us see a similar picture of another class of labor, also typical.

The "real wages" of school-teachers have decreased 34.9 per cent.
 Why? Because their class must pay the increase enjoyed by the steel and coal men.

Freedom of Speech Defined.
 According to Dean Briggs of Harvard, Dean Jones of Yale defines freedom of speech as "the liberty to say what you think without thinking what you say." (Boston Trans-

RIPLING RHYMES.
THE WORLD MOVES.

Nowadays we see the tractor dog
 dilly like a charm; it's the most important factor in the business of the farm. Oh, we see the farmer sitting on a spring seat painted green, and a wondrous gait he's hitting as he toils his weird machine.
 Horses look to him like fakers, and for miles he'll give no man; for he plows a dozen acres where a team would fall at one. As I view the mighty tractor olden times return to me, when I was a tragic actor in the scenes of husbandry. One old man, with a shaggy head and a mule of bridled gray, and a just what a sweet meadow for I raved my all day. All the way day I whacked her, soaked her ribs and then again, and I longed to have a tractor, which was not invented then. With a club her ribs I polished, hoping thus some speed to gain; but all schedules were abolished by that mule, and clove were vain. All my better years were squandered in this slow and futile way; up and down the 6-1 I wandered, slow as coase grass, through the day. And the mule—at last I sacker! her and took up a fountain pen, not because the useful tractor had been invented then.

PIE AND BOLSHEVISM.
 There are some magnates who will bet that, if the real truth were known, pie is at the bottom of most of the present industrial unrest and also has been a prolific source of increase in general taxation.

For instance, it has been definitely determined that the higher in price pie goes the higher go taxes, rents, gas bills, clothing, insurance and taxation. The world has been educated to believe that the price of bread was the unforgotten hammer of the industrialist's status, but that theory has been shattered, say those who dispense confections of pumpkin, peach, custard and the sa-labrious meringues.

A pie that averaged January 1, 1916,
 for ten cents in the bakery now brings $1.20 at most of the cafes and buffets in the downtown and uptown districts. Four years ago one was served with a quarter of a pie for a nickel in the cheap cafes or "restaurants"; the price now is a dime and, in many cases, depending on the genius, one-twelfth of a pie brings fifteen cents.</

The marriage of Miss Mary McLaughlin, daughter of Mrs. U. L. McLaughlin of Pasadena, and James Osborne Craig, architect of Santa Barbara, will take place in the home of Mrs. E. E. Purman, aunt of the bride-elect, on Thursday morning, Nov. 21, at 11 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Father Serra of the Montecito Catholic Church officiating. Miss McLaughlin returned a few days ago from a visit at New York and Philadelphia, announcement of her engagement and approaching marriage coming as a surprise to friends here.

FIND SKELETON.

Finding of a human skeleton in a shallow grave on the R. W. Smith ranch, five miles north of Lompoc, has started a wide search to find James Lennon, a gardener employed on the ranch three years ago. He disappeared a few days after reporting to the officers that his wife had disappeared.

A marriage license was issued here today to Christian Nelson Bank, 34, and Alta Rae Coupe, 21, both of Los Angeles.

STRUCK BY CAR; DIES.

Salvatore Schiro, 45 years of age, of 418 South Avenue 19, died at the County Hospital early yesterday. Schiro was struck by a Los Angeles Railway car at Sixth street and Vermont avenue on October 29.

STRIKE BRUTALITY TOLD.

The story of a brutal assault by strikers upon a free worker when he was returning from his work at the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company's plant, was told in Judge Works's court yesterday during the hearing of contempt charges against Patrick Sheehan, Paul Cecil and other union labor men. When the defense ran out of witnesses yesterday afternoon, Judge Works adjourned court with directions that the missing witnesses be brought in to court this morning without fail. P. Benson, 22 years old, and slightly built, testified he was returning from work August 29, last, when Sheehan stepped up to him and after questioning him, struck him several times on the head and in the face. Mr. Benson tried to defend himself with his dinner pail, but Sheehan, who is a heavily-built man, got through with Mr. Benson, Cecil struck him.

NO JOBS AS STRIKE ENDS.

Although the strike that began six months ago at the yard of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company was called off Saturday night by the Los Angeles Metal Trades Council, the action came too late to do many of the strikers any good. Most of their former jobs have been filled by other men or have been abolished because of reduction of forces. When the yard opened yesterday morning about 3000 men were put to work.

E. L. Haghighi, general manager of the plant, said yesterday that calling off the strike would make little difference in the force.

"Of course it will enable us to increase our force and make room for some of the old men," he stated, "but we have about all the men now that we care to work."

The reason given by officers of the Metal Trades Council for not including the coastwise strike in the referendum vote is that the strike at the Los Angeles yard was never sanctioned by the American Federation of Labor. As it was an "out-law" strike they could take independent action.

Nearly 3000 men were called out last May by officers of the council, without giving the workers a chance to cast a referendum vote. The few who got their jobs again will return under the same conditions that were rejected by the leaders at the time the strike was called.

Mr. Benson said he was severely injured, and his wife testified as to his cuts and bruises and his generally bloody condition when he returned home. Eyewitnesses of the assault gave their testimony, corroborating Mr. Benson. There was also evidence to show that the strikers called the free workers "scabs" and "scallies." All these acts were in violation of the order of the court made August 2, after a trial of a week in which evidence was given as to intimidation and interference on the part of the strikers. The court ordered the strikers, members of and affiliated with the Metal Trades Council, not to interfere with men working at the shipyard.

Cecil and Sheehan were not in court in the afternoon, and the defense called A. S. Teague, W. E. Hensley and Albert W. McKenna, who denied all the charges.

BANNING, Nov. 17.—Prune growers are getting money by pounds this week. The first payment of 5 cents on the pound for this season's prune crop is being received in the form of checks from the association. Later when the prunes are graded, they will receive the final payment of 3 cents per pound. The fruit is of much higher quality than was expected as it was feared that the autumn rain while the fruit was on the trays had injured its quality. They seem to have completed the drying process without injury.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

COACHELLA, Nov. 17.—That the under water supply of the Coachella Valley will be materially increased by the building of a spreading dam in the Whitewater River near Palm Springs is the expectation of the ranchers in this vicinity. The valley storm water board recently let the contract for the construction of the dam to a Pomona contractor for $115,000, and it is to be completed by January 1. The dam, which is to be built of cement and wiring will hold the storm waters till they have had a chance to sink into the ground, the board will also construct a similar dam in the arroyo east of Thermal, and expect to let the contract for that in a few days.

The resolutions unanimously adopted by the Ministers' Association of the Christian Church at its meeting yesterday at the Broadway Christian Church were presented by Rev. Edgar P. Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian Church, and seconded by Rev. W. F. Richardson of the Hollywood Christian Church, and were as follows:

"Resolved, by the Los Angeles Christian Ministers' Association in regular session for the month of November, 1919, that we heartily commend the attitude of Mayor Snyder and other responsible persons and organizations in their attitude of protest against an official welcome to the De Valera, the President of the Irish Free Republic; as a serious propagandist of disorder he should be made to feel that in America there is no place nor honor for the varieties of essential traitors to law and righteousness."

The permit for the parade was sent orders to Capt. Murray, in charge of the central division and to Capt. Moffat, in charge of the detective bureau, stating the police arrangements for the De Valera parade tomorrow.

The permit for the parade was sent orders to Capt. Murray, in charge of the central division and to Capt. Moffat, in charge of the detective bureau, stating the police arrangements for the De Valera parade tomorrow.

Starting at the Arcade station shortly after the arrival of the Lark at 10:15 a.m. the parade is to pass up Fifth street to Spring, north on Spring street to First street, west on First to Broadway, south on Broadway to either the Alexandria Hotel or to the Los Angeles Examiner Building, where the parade will disband.

AT "EXAMINER" BUILDING.

The parade will disband at the Examiner Hotel or at the Examiner Building, where it is expected De Valera and the members of his local Reception Committee, headed by Jos. Scott, will leave their automobiles and go inside to the Mayor's office to be greeted by Mayor Snyder.

It was also intended by the local Reception Committee that the Mayor should be usual in the case of distinguished visitors, such as President Wilson and King of Belgium, go to the station to greet De Valera and to ride with him in the parade. But Mayor Snyder has refused to take part in such a scheme to give an official tone to De Valera's visit, so it was then planned that De Valera should go to the City Hall to call on the Mayor, such as any person who desires to see him has the right to do.

The City Commissioners of Long Beach have received resolutions of protest from the Kitcheners Post, World War Veterans and Gen. The resolutions from the Sons of St. George are as follows:

The Commissioners of Long Beach received many other protests yesterday against the Long Beach parade taking part in the parade. Commissioner E. E. Tinsler granted the permit, but last night it was stated by those in touch with the situation that the other four Commissioners—Mayor W. T. Lacey, W. M. Peck, Harry E. Jolley and John D. Fier—will, at today's meeting of the board, rescind the permit, and the band will not take part in the parade. A number of members of the band said last night that if this is not done and the band is ordered to take part in the De Valera parade, they, as individual members, will refuse to parade. If the permit stands and the men make good on their threat the band will be so depleted that it cannot make music and will perform remain in Long Beach.

more and more first-class orchestras than any other city of like size in America.

Today Los Angeles has two symphony orchestras—the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra and the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

LONG RECORD.

The former organization has been in existence twenty years, and has been one of the principal means of maintaining the growing position of Los Angeles in the musical world.

However, like many other big musical enterprises, the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra has always lacked financial backing.

This year William A. Clark, Jr., has come to the front, and has organized the Philharmonic Orchestra on broad lines and with good financial backing. Mr. Clark has already assumed a possible deficit of $200,000 a year for the organization for the next five years, and not only will he maintain this splendid aggregation of ninety musicians in Los Angeles, but he stated yesterday that it is his intention, next year, to take the orchestra on a continental tour—a plan, which, if carried out, will do more perhaps than anything else to place Los Angeles in the lead as a musical center.

However, even today, with its two great symphony orchestras, its six great singing clubs, its splendidly-equipped studios and stores and a school department which, more than that of any other city in America, encourages the teaching of music, Los Angeles stands in the front rank in the musical field.

OPERATIC SCHOOL.

"All that is required to complete the cycle of musical influence in Los Angeles is the establishment of an operatic school," said Fred W. Blanchard, yesterday. "Such an institution is all that is needed to make the scope of our musical activities as broad as it should be, and as it doubtless will be in the near future. It is not improbable that teachers in all branches of the musical arts, equal to any to be found in the United States, can be secured right here in Los Angeles."

"Our local bands are something to be proud of. We have in and near Los Angeles not less than forty organized military bands, not to mention the various drum corps and pipers."

"Coming back to the subject of opera, let us not forget that, owing to the efforts of local musicians and because of the fine material available, Los Angeles in 1918, under direction of the National Federation of Musical Clubs, produced Horatio Parker's prize opera, 'Faithful Heart' at a cost of $10,000. This musical production was done on a scale never before approached or even attempted by any other city in the country—and it was all done with talent secured in our home city, with the exception of a few of the leading parts."

MANY COMPOSERS.

"It is not an extravagant boast to forecast a brilliant future for both foreign and home-made operatic compositions in the Angel City. Already we have here at least twenty-five nationally-known composers. There is Charles Wakefield Cadman, who wrote the music for 'The Light of Asia,' recently produced at Kroytons; there is Gertrude Ross, whose songs are sung by all the great singers; there is Frederick Stearns, whose sacred music is becoming more and more popular with the church-going public. Then there is our own Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mrs. Jamison, Rickerhoff, Edward Marx, Grace Greebe, Albert J. Adams, Fanny Dillon, Mrs. Jessie Edwards, Mrs. William Duffield, Vernon D. Miller, Waldo F. Chase, Louis Woodman (Luis William S. Broderick)—and don't forget Louis Gotshall and Harley Hamilton and a dozen others that I could mention. If we ever do have a big genuine school of opera, we will have no trouble about getting orchestras. For people, I think, even among musicians, realize the fact that in the Los Angeles schools alone, there are orchestras that comprise 150 musicians—and when I say musicians, I mean musicians, not amateurs."

MUSIC FOR PICTURES.

The motion-picture industry has been one of the greatest factors in adding to the revenue of musicians here, both performers and composers. The photoplay companies not only are glad and willing to pay the price demanded by musicians, but usually they double the compensation. This tremendous industry can find here composers and arrangers capable of creating the musical settings to the "silent dramas" produced—and in the silent drama becomes articulate, for, just as "music begins where speech ends," it also interprets pictures (both stills and movies) as no lecturer, however eloquent, is capable of doing.

At the studios no end of temperamental stars are beginning to request, and in some cases demand, that their directors furnish them with soft, sweet strains while they are doing, making some great sacrifices or doing other sissy stuff essential to "the greatest story ever screened."

The music for many recent famous photoplays was written by local composers, the composer often taking the story, before it is produced, and writing the scores for the various scenes.

FACTORIES, STORES.

From the Jew's harp to the grand piano, from the harmonica to the pipe organ, there is not a modern musical instrument that is not sold by agents, dealers and manufacturers in Los Angeles. Besides the twenty big music stores of the city, the name of the agent from eastern cities is legion, for the simple business reason that Los Angeles is the best field for him in the entire country.

Moreover, Los Angeles is becoming more and more a manufacturing city, and the makers of musical instruments are not behind other manufacturing concerns. The California Organ Company, for instance, makes a pipe organ that is the envy of all made in America.

Player Rolls
Are Also Much ImprovedIt Is Practically Impossible to Misplay the Player-Piano

The music-roll—the vital part—has also been improved in the last few years to keep pace with the player-piano.

The early rolls were perforated in such a manner that the entire responsibility for the playing was placed on the shoulders of the player.

This fact alone caused the player-piano to be designated as "too mechanical."

When the player-piano became popular—nowadays about 75 per cent. of all the pianos sold are player-pianos—the roll-makers saw that the time had come for improvement in the rolls and set out to make them in such a manner that even the uninitiated could play perfectly.

With the present-day cuttings and arrangements, nothing is left to the performer as far as technique is concerned. Everything is cut into the roll with the single exception of the tone-volume, which is rightfully left to the performer.

A player roll must be played exactly as the artist wishes it—there is no other way to it on account of the improvements in the cutting methods.

That is the reason why anyone can produce as good music on the player-piano as can the finished musician.

The unseen force of
- the Playeriano

The propagation of music to the layman has long been a question that has occupied the minds of the world's great musicians, one of the most prominent of whom at one time said—

"My art would be a double pleasure to me did I but know of some way that my work could be made to bring as much pleasure to my fellowmen as it does to me, who has been chosen to create."

Here Has Come the Player Piano
That Fulfills the Master's Fondest Wish

The instrument that seems to envelop the very soul and art of the composer and performer in such a manner as to put it forth at the instant wish or desire of the layman, whether he knows the fundamentals of music or not; an instrument that brightens the home and develops good cheer in the family.

The Player Piano is a real piano and may be used just as such for practice or for playing when the performer so wishes. At the same time the player roll mechanism, built into and a part of the instrument, may be used at such times as an accomplished pianist is not at hand or when some particular composition is to be heard, using exactly the same technique as does the finished artist who has charge of the playing of the rolls and who actually performs so that the rolls may be perfect in every way.

We hope so to imbue the idea of music that your home will not pass another winter without having in it this Mission to music.

This is the week in which it is best to buy, for stocks are at their fullest and choice of styles and makes broader than will be at any other time during the present season.

PLAYER-PIANO WEEK IS HERE.

Most Popular Instrument in the Automatic One, Figures Show.

The most popular musical instrument in the world today is the piano, and probably the most popular piano in the world is the player-piano. Local dealers yesterday estimated that about 75 per cent. of all pianos sold in Los Angeles are "players." These instruments are used not only in homes, but in schools, hospitals and many other institutions. Recently 200 player-pianos were purchased for our public schools. All this makes significant the fact that this has been designated as "Player-Piano Week" by the Allied Musical Trades Association of Los Angeles.

Time was when the amateur musician and "would-be learner" could cut all sorts of capers on the "player," when he could aggressively outstep Beethoven, murder Liszt and reduce Schubert to inharmonious chaos. But the perfecting of the player-piano has changed all this. Formerly music teachers objected to the "player," on the grounds, that it was too mechanical. Today many of the best teachers are recommending the player-piano because the student cannot do otherwise than hear and play the great masters exactly as their music was written and interpreted by great performers.

This company's instruments are sold by the hundreds throughout the West, and, needless to say, are unknown here, many of the largest churches and theatrical houses having installed them. One of the organs adorns Trinity Auditorium and another is heard weekly at Clune's Auditorium.

Practically every musical instrument known is made in Los Angeles either by hand or by machinery. Only a few weeks ago a new factory was started in the center of the city, and there violin, guitar, cello and other stringed instruments are made entirely by machinery. Even the humble ukulele, which is hardly recognized as a standard musical instrument, but which is loved by both high-brow and low-brow, because of its soft, sweet tones, and because of its general use by a poetic, primitive people, is manufactured in Los Angeles by the thousand, and sold everywhere in the United States. Perhaps the most noted maker of violins in the West is Fritz Pulpiano, who for years has been making his hand instruments which have been used by some of the most famous virtuosi.

After all, the foundation of the musical atmosphere in any city is to be found in the studio buildings, and of these Los Angeles has several of the largest and best equipped in the West. In one building—the Blanchard Building, to be specific—there are 550 music teachers. This is the largest building devoted exclusively to music and the fine arts west of Chicago. Then, there are the Majestic Theater Building, the Walker Theater Building and scores of music schools, some of which have been recently collapsed, many of them nationally renowned.

However, while the schools are for the most part successful, the great demand just now in Los Angeles seems to be for private instruction. Most ambitious students, even those who attend the schools, resort to private teachers, proving their desire to achieve success more quickly and in greater measure than they could by attendance at the schools alone.

There has been no little discussion of late among the advocates of music study done under the instruction of outside teachers. As a matter of fact, there are now several high schools in California which put music on a par with other studies as a major subject, and allow credit on musical work pursued outside the schools. Also, there are schools in this State which grant from regular school hours time for the student's private music instruction.

AT MORNING MUSICALS

Women to Meet at Preliminary First Symphony Offering.

As a preliminary to the first Los Angeles Symphony concert of the season, Friday afternoon at Clune's Auditorium, several hundred women will attend a morning musical in the Alexandria ballroom at 10 a.m., today. Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt, president of the Los Angeles Symphony Association, is the hostess, and is assisted by a corps of young society matrons of Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Dr. Alexis Kall, an authority on music will explain the first Tchaikovsky symphony, the number selected by the orchestra, as its final symphony of the year. The lecture will be illustrated by artists from the orchestra.

DIES FROM POISON.

Woman's Attempt at Suicide Went Ago Proves Successful.

Mrs. Ada M. Jennings, 39 years old, who attempted suicide on November 10, by swallowing poison in the bathroom of her home, at 121 South Townsend street, died yesterday at the County Hospital. According to the police who investigated the case, Mrs. Jennings was suffering from melancholia and feared that she would lose her mind. The body was removed from the hospital to the French and Son undertaking parlors. Funeral arrangements will be made today.

Give a thought to MUSIC

THE one thing that makes life worth while is pleasure. Anything, then, that provides pleasure to humanity in more or less degree deserves more than passing thought.

The mere thought of pleasure suggests music, for wherever or whenever pleasure prevails music will surely be present either as the instigator or accompaniment.

In the theaters and the churches, in all places devoted to entertainment, recreation and instruction, in public or private places of assembly at home or abroad—on land or sea—music is provided more often first than last for the sole purpose of promoting pleasure.

Because it must be the very germ of pleasure music has steadily gained in its universal appeal thru all the ages of the development of man. Its hold upon humanity is invincible, just as the craving for pleasure is insatiable.

What other sound, or sight, can stir the human mind so deeply and so pleasantly as the sound of good music.

A shot crashes in the night. The sense of hearing is unpleasantly jarred—the mind is obsessed with fear, or dread.

How different when to the ear comes the near or distant sound of music. You pause to listen—your ears drink deep of the welcome, pleasing melody—your mind conjures the pleasures of former occasions and you are grateful for the privilege of living.

It is for you, especially at this time and season, to give due thought to music—the universal need—the great promoter of pleasure—the great inspiration to better living.

Music should and must play an important part in your home life if you mean to make life worth while. The means for providing good music in your home are yours to command—better and more within reason than ever before through the present perfection of modern musical instruments such as the present-day player-piano—an instrument that makes master musicians of us all.

This advertisement is prepared and paid for by the Allied Music Trades of Los Angeles in order that it may bring to your mind the necessity of music in YOUR home, and also that you may know where and how you can best secure the particular instrument that you want.

Elsewhere in this special section you will find the names of the dealers, special appeals from men noted in musical lines and good reasons, from the technical viewpoint, why the player-piano should stand pre-eminent as the great promoter of pleasure in every home.

MILK

MILK at present prices the public can buy. poultry or mutton. Nutrient than one pound at 20 or 25 cents a quart. the intelligent and fair-minded facts will not only gladly use milk more liberally.

If the dairymen cannot get a reasonable price for their milk, they can get it by selling it to the butcher and engage in retail trade. The price has been fixed at a profitable level, and the dairymen are obliged to pay double and the butcher can get it.

This is not an idle statement. The authorities and they will tell you that the cattle have been slaughtered by the thousands and that it is to be unprofitable to milk them.

MAN CONVICTED; WIFE HELD

While a jury in Judge Willis's court was returning a verdict of guilty yesterday against Cassius Martin, accused of robbery, Justice Hanby held to answer Lucella Martin, defendant's wife, on a charge of embezzlement.

Martin was convicted of robbing Herbert D. Marino, a Stanford University student, at the Southern Pacific Station, on August 16. According to the testimony of Mr. Marino, Martin and Bob Holt, who was also accused of robbery, but has jumped his bail, rushed in on him in a room at the station and forced him to give them a pin valued at $150 and $50 in currency. The currency was found on Holt and the pin on Martin.

E. M. Torchia, Martin's attorney, tried yesterday to prove that Martin had been engaged in a fake game by Martin and Holt and that he lost his money. On the stand Martin's defense was that he and Holt matched coins with Marino, using stage money. Deputy District Attorney Powell held that Martin and Holt had robbed Marino and had not tricked him out of the money. Had Martin been found guilty of grand larceny instead of robbery his punishment would have been much less severe. Friday was set as the day for pronouncing of sentence.

The court yesterday declared Holt's bond of $1000 forfeited and ordered a bench warrant issued for the defendant. Lucella Martin was arrested, according to officers, while attempting to smuggle morphine into the County Jail to her husband. She was then accused of defrauding Charles Kerr out of an automobile by selling the car to R. W. Purpus of San Diego while purchasing it on a lease contract in 1918. She is said to have made a confession when arrested, but yesterday repudiated the confession, telling Justice Hanby that she was under the influence of morphine at the time.

Mrs. Martin was committed to the County Jail, being unable to produce $500 bail. Her attorney made a strong fight to have her released on her own recognizance. Deputy District Attorney Hill did not oppose a low bail because Mrs. Martin has been aiding the Federal authorities in rounding up a ring of morphine dealers.

Whiting, who figured prominently in the early history of the State, and with them she came to Los Angeles in 1873. Her father was once United States Attorney for California and was later Pacific Coast superintendent of Indian affairs. She leaves her husband, Albert, four sons, Norwood W., Volney E., Arthur J., and Herbert E. Howard; a daughter, Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, and a sister, Mrs. James J. Mellon, all of this city. TUBERCULOSIS CONQUERED

TWENTY-TWO years of experiments have brought a treatment that is effecting cures for Tuberculosis.

That treatment is VAPORTOR.

In the ages past, physicians treated Tuberculosis with serums, vaccines and drugs given internally. The results were unsatisfactory.

VAPORTOR is new.

The VAPORTOR treatment is administered direct to the regions affected—the lungs and respiratory tract.

The VAPORTOR treatment consists of passing dry, medicated vapor to the lungs, nose and throat, driving out the tubercle bacilli and healing diseased tissue.

VAPORTOR is the logical treatment.

VAPORTOR strikes at the seat of the disease.

VAPORTOR acts directly.

In an editorial titled "Medication by Inhalation," in the Literary Digest of June 28, 1919, are contained excerpts from a paper contributed to the Medical Journal by the eminent Dr. P. David Shultz of New York. He says in part:

"To maintain health it is not necessary that the body be fed on drugs, nor is it necessary to give drugs in great quantities to restore the body when health is impaired. In medication by inhalation, if the conveyer is beneficial, we can do greater good when some medicine that will impress the system favorably is judiciously added to it."

VAPORTOR accomplishes exactly what Dr. Shultz recommends. Further, it has been proved that it DESTROYS THE BACILLI AND HELPS HEAL THE LESIONS.

The discovery of VAPORTOR marks a new era in the treatment of Catarrh and all ailments of the respiratory tract as the lesser diseases yield much more easily than dread Tuberculosis.

If you are afflicted, or if you have a friend who is afflicted, investigate the VAPORTOR treatment today. Scores are being made well. Clip out and mail the attached coupon and receive free a copy of the booklet which tells you in interesting form of the age-old fight against the great White Plague and describes the VAPORTOR treatment. Do it now!

VAPORTOR is a successful treatment by direct inhalation for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Tuberculosis and all respiratory diseases and through drug saturation of the blood for Rheumatism, Auto-toxemia, general constitutional troubles and blood diseases.

urday by the lawyer from the secretary and treasurer of the I.W.W.

State body asking him to undertake the defense of the five taken in the raid Friday night. On that occasional cards were found in the I.

W.W. headquarters instructing all in need of a lawyer services to go to Pandit. On Sunday the lawyer's shingle was found decorated with anti-I.W.W. legends done in red paint. Attorney Pandit said yesterday that he was retained as counsel

for the southern part of the State of the Labor Defense League, organized to fight the criminal anti-socialism law, and that he has interested himself in the defense of some I.W.W. and others indicted under that law in the past, but that he has not time to take any more

I.W.W. cases at present.

Attorney Thomas P. White, ex-

speaker, following the latter's ar-

NOT GERMAIN ESTATE.

M. L. Germain of this city yesterday authorized a statement that the

Germain Building, 220-222 South

Spring street, where headquarters of the I.W.W. were raided last Friday night by former soldiers and police does not now belong to the Germain estate. The estate has not owned the property for seven years.

Other members of the company to be considerable publicity," says the statement, "from all Los Angeles papers recently on connection with the raid on the I.W.W. headquarters.

This publicity will reflect adversely

on the Germain name if the false impression that the property is owned by the estate is not im-

STARTS SUIT AGAIN.

Settlement Made by Blind Man and Wife Fails to Work.

A family controversy, thought to have been adjusted, came again to Judge Cralf's court yesterday when Edmund G. Paycke, former business man, who is blind, appeared to oppose motions made by his wife, Christine Paycke.

Mr. Paycke sued for divorce a number of years ago, but did not press the case. Mrs. Paycke sued for separate maintenance, and agreed in a recent proceeding, it is said, to drop the suit. After their separation in Chicago years ago, Mr. Paycke paid his wife a monthly sum until he lost his eyesight. Since then his son and daughter have contributed to their mother's support.

Judge Cralf ordered the divorce suit placed on the calendar. He directed Mr. Paycke to pay his wife $50 a month which he agreed to do.

ASKING FOR DIVORCE FROM FORD STERLING.

TEDDY SAMPSON BRINGS SUIT, ON GROUND OF DESERTION, AGAINST FILM ACTOR.

Mrs. Nora Stelch (Teddy Sampson), a motion-picture actress, yesterday filed suit here for divorce from George Stelch (Ford Sterling), a film actor. She charges desertion.

Her case is in the hands of Attorney Philip Cohen.

Mr. and Mrs. Stelch were married at San Diego January 3, 1914, and according to Mrs. Stelch's attorney, separated in New York, October 3, 1915. Mr. Stelch came to Los Angeles and Mrs. Stelch says she asked for a reconciliation about June 12, 1918, and Mr. Stelch rejected her overtures.

Mr. Cohen says there is about $15,000 community property and that Mrs. Stelch will ask for attorney's fees, but no alimony.
